

2018 MCC Charities Providing Support to Communities Impacted by Hurricane Florence

American Kidney Fund

23-7124261

The American Kidney Fund is providing direct emergency financial assistance to dialysis centers and kidney patients affected by Hurricane Florence. To date we have helped more than 400 patients in North and South Carolina. Funds raised are given to dialysis centers to ensure kidney patients can maintain their dialysis treatment. Patients can use funds to replace medication, purchase food and household items, temporary lodging and transportation to and from medical appointments.

Americares

06-1008595

Americares is focused on meeting urgent health needs and delivering emergency medicine and supplies. The team has now delivered shipments of health and hygiene supplies to shelters and clinics, and anticipates the need for long-term Mental Health and Psychosocial Support, as well as Disaster Risk Reduction and Preparedness programming.

The Anglican Relief and Development Fund

20-8954604

ARDF is working through the local churches and trusted partners on the ground to provide shelter, food, teams of volunteers and funds to help victims of Hurricane Florence.

Baltimore Community ToolBank

45-4507134

The Baltimore ToolBank has sent tools & supplies to partnering ToolBanks in Atlanta and Charlotte to help their response to recovery in the wake of Hurricane Florence. Additionally, staff support has been lent to help craft press releases and communications network-wide.

Direct Relief

95-1831116

Direct Relief has been working with local health centers and free clinics to deliver requested medicines and supplies as they work to treat people impacted by Hurricane Florence across the coast. To date, more than $730,000 worth of medicines and supplies have been delivered to 17 health centers in the affected areas.

End Hunger in Calvert County

80-0456174

End Hunger in Calvert County is partnering with different groups and individuals in Calvert County to send down much needed items to areas affected by Hurricane Florence. To date we have already filled and sent down one truck with various baby and food items requested by our FEMA recognized partners.

Fisher House Foundation, Inc.

11-3158401

Fisher House is supporting our Camp Lejeune Fisher House recover from the minor damage it sustained.

Food For The Poor, Inc.

59-2174510

Food For The Poor is teaming up with longtime partner organization Matthew 25: Ministries to rush disaster relief supplies to Hurricane Florence victims. These items, to be distributed by Catholic Charities of the Diocese of Raleigh, include water, hygiene and cleaning supplies, paper towels, and toilet paper.

Home School Foundation

52-1354365

HSF is providing financial grants to homeschooling families which may be used to purchase replacement homeschooling materials or essential household goods. Visit our disaster recovery landing page here.

International Aid

38-2323550

International Aid is sending relief supplies to those affected by Hurricane Florence. A truckload of water and a truck load of paper products have already been sent to our partner on the ground. We have also sent Hygiene kits, gloves, mops and buckets. We have responded to many disasters around the world, but we couldn't do it without help from donors like you.

International Medical Corps

95-3949646

International Medical Corps has deployed a mobile medical clinic, volunteer medical staff and support teams to local shelters in Wilmington and the surrounding counties, providing primary care, dispensing prescriptions and attending to other medical needs. We have donated hygiene kits, medicines and other medical supplies to local federally-qualified health clinics. Funds raised will also provide training to local partners on building a better response and how to build coalitions to provide medical care in a disaster.

Lab Rescue of the LRCP

52-1880024

Lab Rescue has taken an active role in the North Carolina hurricane-impacted area. The Rescue pulled twenty five dogs from shelters prior the storm to free up space for resident dogs, sent a team of volunteers to rescue nine dogs living on a porch surrounded by flood waters whose elderly owner could no longer care for them, and most recently, we are saving dogs given up by their owners to local shelters and bringing them north to areas where there are adopters. The funds raised will provide much-needed veterinary care, including; orthopedic procedures, heartworm treatment, spay/neuter, and more.

Matthew 25: Ministries

31-1348100

Matthew 25's Disaster Response Team arrived in the Carolinas on September 20 with a selection of Matthew 25's fleet of disaster vehicles, and has provided laundry services and disaster relief in a number of locations since arriving last month. Additionally, Matthew 25 has shipped more than 11 truckloads of aid to partners in the disaster areas with more shipments of aid scheduled over the coming weeks.

Mercy Medical Angels

52-1374161

Our volunteer Pilots are flying in relief supplies daily to North Carolina! Mercy Medical Angels through our Angel Flight Mid-Atlantic program started a "MayDay to Give" campaign to collect and distribute supplies to survivors of Hurricane Florence in North Carolina. We have pilots ready to go wheels up and are delivering supplies daily in the following cities of North Carolina: Lumberton, Kinston and Beaufort. We are coordinating relief efforts with North Carolina Government Agencies and nonprofit organizations who then distribute to families in 16 different counties as well as shelters affected by Hurricane Florence.

Veterans of Foreign Wars Foundation

43-1758998

To date, the VFW has provided $50,000 in disaster relief to the VFW Department of North Carolina to help service personnel, veterans and their families who were victims of Hurricane Florence. Through our Unmet Needs program, we have helped five individuals meet their rent, mortgage, utility and food needs for a total of $1,500. More applications for assistance are currently pending from the states affected by the hurricane and we are poised to do whatever we can to alleviate the suffering.

World Renew

38-1708140

World Renew provides the following services free of charge to disaster affected communities in North America: clean-up and debris removal, unmet needs assessments, home repairs, construction estimating, and more. World Renew aims to work with communities to support disaster survivors who are at risk to not being able to recover. World Renew is not often the first on the scene, but often the last to leave.

World Vision

95-1922279

World Vision has partnered with the Fayetteville Dream Center to set up a shelter at Manna Church in Fayetteville, North Carolina. Staff from Dream Center, the church, and World Vision are serving evacuees here and began providing relief supplies Sunday, Sept. 16. These relief supplies include food, water, temporary shelter items (such as tents and sleeping bags), hygiene items, coolers, blankets, diapers, clothing, and flood cleanup kits.
